Description

2002 ATLANTIC 42 Built by Holland Boats in 2002, this Atlantic 42 has had a light but regular use, presents beautifully throughout and is highly equipped and ready to cruise. The radar arch is hydraulically operated to lower the vessel's air draft, opening up further moving opportunities such as the Thames and the inland waterways of Europe. Atlantic Boats are renowned for their outstanding handling and sea kindly hull; this model also benefits from her bow and stern thrusters, making manoeuvring a doddle. Further benefits were professionally cleaned fuel tanks in June 2022, new Racor twin fuel filters in June 2022, new shafts, stern glands and cutlass bearings, rope cutter and seacocks in March 2022. There are two en-suite island double berths fore and aft, plus an open-plan saloon, galley and dinette that offers space and light, which is hard to beat. Powered by twin Volvo TAMD 63p's (650 hours) serviced in May 2022, it offers effortless cruising at 18-20 knots with a top speed of around 24. See below for the complete inventory.
